

The State of Washington

Proclamation

WHEREAS, children and youth learn best when they are healthy, supported, and receive an education that enables them to thrive academically, socially, and emotionally; and

WHEREAS, schools ensure that students are able to learn when they meet the needs of the whole child and provide integrated, multi-tiered supports; and

WHEREAS, children's mental health is directly linked to their learning and development, and the learning environment provides an optimal context to promote good mental health through connectedness within the school and community; and

WHEREAS, sound psychological principles are integral to instruction and learning, social and emotional development, prevention, early intervention, school safety, and culturally-diverse student populations; and

WHEREAS, school psychology has over 60 years of well-established, widely-recognized and highly-effective practice and standards clearly articulated in the National Association of School Psychologists' Model for Comprehensive and Integrated School Psychological Services; and

WHEREAS, school psychologists are specially trained to foster and deliver a continuum of mental health services and academic supports that lower barriers to teaching and learning; and

WHEREAS, school psychologists help children thrive by nurturing their individual strengths in personal and academic endeavors; and

WHEREAS, school psychologists are trained to assess student and school-based barriers to learning as well as individual strengths, utilize data-based decision-making, implement research-driven prevention and intervention strategies, evaluate outcomes, and improve accountability;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, do hereby proclaim November 14-18, 2016, as in Washington and I encourage everyone in our state to join me in this special observance.
